African American Concentrations

Concentrations are a standard deviation greater than 2.00. Standard deviation is a comparison of the percent of the minority for that block group to the percent of the minority for the entire TMA. The higher the number, the greater the concentration of the minority.

Low-Mod refers to 51% or greater of households that are below 80% of the TMA median household income.

All minorities grouped together include the combination of African Americans, American Indians, Asians, Native Hawaiians, and other races as one race.
